YANKS BLASTING JAP AIRFIELDS

ROCKET SPITTING FIGHTER PLANES, according to Tokyo radio, have been strafing Japanese homeland airfields on the island of Kyushu. The attacks were made in the Fukuoka (A) area. These assaults, which the Japs believe may be a prelude to invasion, were made by planes presumably based on Okinawa (1, inset) where six American airfields are in operation. Meanwhile, as Jap troops on the island surrendered by the thousands, two light U.S. naval units were sunk by suicide planes. To the south, the Japs reported that two allied task forces were prowling the waters off Miyako (2) in the Sakishima Islands. They feared these forces might be invasion fleets headed for Amami Island (3) or Kyushu, southernmost of the Jap home islands. (International)

U. S. Government Closing Books On Biggest Year Of Spending In History

WASHINGTON, June 27—The government this week is closing the books on a $100,000,000,000 financial year—the biggest it ever has had or is likely to have in the foreseeable future.

Spending, income and deficit all topped previous records in the 1945 fiscal year which ends on Saturday.

A total of almost $100,000,000,000 was laid out by the treasury and by government corporations. Most of it—around $90,000,000,000—went to prosecute the war.

Into treasury coffers flowed the greatest volume of money ever—more than $45,000,000,000. But the government spent more than $2 for every dollar of net income. The deficit for the year approximated $54,000,000,000. This amount had to be raised by war loans and other borrowings.

Outlay for all purposes was at the rate of $273,283,000 a day. War spending alone averaged about $247,500,000 daily.

The government went into the hole at the rate of $148,817,000 a day. Net income averaged $124,466,000 daily.

The following table shows the general financial condition of the government for the 1945 fiscal year now closing compared with last year and the estimate for the coming fiscal year 1946:

Net receipts: 1945, $45,434,000,000; 1944, $44,148,926,968; estimate 1946, $41,254,872,000.

War spending-x: 1945, $90,368,000,000; 1944, $88,000,000,000; estimate 1946, $85,000,000,000.

Peace Hopes Shift To Senate

TRUMAN SEEKS EARLY APPROVAL OF WORLD PLAN

President To Present New Charter To Senators Next Monday

CONFIRMATION EXPECTED

Little Opposition To Plan Expected; Hearings To Start July 8

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 27—The spotlight of world hope for lasting peace shifted today from San Francisco to the United States senate.

The world security charter drafted by representatives of 50 peace loving united nations at San Francisco comes to the senate next Monday. Senate ratification by an overwhelming majority is expected by mid-August.

The work of the San Francisco conference ended last night with formal signing of the historic document and a closing speech by President Truman advocating its prompt ratification by the 50 participating nations.

Members of the United States delegation took off for Washington immediately to launch a drive to make this nation the first in the world to complete such ratification.

President Truman bade them goodspeed.

"There is a time for making plans—and there is a time for action," he said. "The time for action is now! Let us, therefore, each in his own nation and according to his own way, seek immediate approval of this charter—and make it a living thing."

Plans were made for the President to transmit the charter formally to the senate next Monday with a personal plea for speedy approval.

Senators To Help

In the interim the way will be smoothed by the senate's own participants in the San Francisco deliberations—Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., of the foreign relations committee and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich.

Connally is scheduled to address the senate tomorrow. Vandenberg will make his report Friday.

Their talks are scheduled as a report to the senate, the American people and the world at large on their evaluation of the 10,000-word charter under which the United Nations pledge themselves to maintain peace and security throughout the world, with force if necessary.

Effective When Ratified
The charter will become effective as soon as it is ratified by the big five nations—the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France and China—and a majority of the 45 other signatories.

Connally said he would work "in perfect harmony" with the President, as chairman of the foreign relations committee.

WEATHER SLOWS FIGHTER PLANES FROM IWO BASES

IWO JIMA, June 27—Brig. Gen. Ernest (Mickey) Moore, commanding general of the Seventh Fighter Command today told the United Press:

"The only thing keeping us from sending 100 fighters daily from Iwo to Japan is the weather."

Moore said Iwo Jima already has paid big dividends and indicated that once the weather clears Iwo-based fighters will carry the air war to Japan with increasing intensity.

To date Mustangs from this crowded forward base destroyed or damaged 624 Japanese planes in the air or on the ground in 16 missions since they began operations against the empire April 7.

That score might have been increased considerably but for the fact that about 25 percent of the scheduled missions have been cancelled by bad weather, Moore said.

Home State Welcomes President

Truman Scheduled To Make Important Announcement At Independence

SALT LAKE CITY, June 27—President Truman, after an overnight rest here, left today in his special plane for a homecoming at Independence, Mo., where he will make one of the most important news announcements of his career.

The silvery presidential plane took off for Kansas City at 9:08 a. m. CWT.

Gov. Herbert B. Maw, of Utah, accompanied Mr. Truman aboard the presidential plane. He will remain with the President as far as Kansas City.

The plane left after the President shook the hand of each of the state highway patrolmen who guarded him while he was at the airport and with everyone in the small group on hand to see him off. He also obligingly posed for photographs.

The chief executive was up at 6:40 a. m. and left the hotel Utah at 7:30 after breakfasting on what he termed luscious Utah strawberries. He was dressed in a gray suit, blue shirt and a dark blue bow tie.

Yesterday the president ended the United Nations conference with a dramatic request at San Francisco for "world-wide rule of reason" and today he was going home for the first time after becoming President of the United States.

The trip from Salt Lake City to an army airfield near Kansas City, Mo., was expected to take four hours.

This is the first time the President has been home since he went into the White House. And Independence and Kansas City were ready to pull out all the stops in giving him the welcome deserving

MONTY WANTED FOR COAL CZAR

Reports Say Truman Asks British Marshal Be Given Job In Reich

WASHINGTON, June 27—President Truman has asked Prime Minister Winston Churchill to make Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery coal czar of the Ruhr, highly placed sources said today.

These sources said successful handling of this assignment would be of as crucial importance to reconstruction as was Montgomery's war job to the victory in Europe.

Europe is desperate for coal. C. J. Potter, deputy solid fuels administrator who has just returned from the continent, said the present European deficit was estimated at about 50,000,000 tons. He said France, Denmark, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Sweden, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal along with North Africa were almost entirely without coal.

The U. S. and Britain, both big coal-producing nations, can't help much. Potter said the U. S. had a 25,000,000 ton coal deficit and Britain a deficit of 15,000,000 tons.

Europe's empty coal bins were said to have given the Allies the alternative of seeing widespread revolution or forcing the Germans to man their mines, the bulk of which are centered in the Ruhr.

It was estimated that the Ruhr mines, now producing at only five per cent of capacity, could be put into large-scale production in a matter of weeks given manpower, food, clothing and authority.

Montgomery, as commander in chief of the British occupied zone of which the Ruhr is a part, would be charged with getting about 300,000 Germans back into the coal mines.

ARMY EXPECTED TO LOWER POINT REQUIREMENTS

Discharge May Be Secured With 78 To 80 Points Soon, Reports Say

AGE GROUPS NOT CHANGED

Many Want Older Men Sent Home; Army Still Wants 7,000,000 For Pacific

WASHINGTON, June 27—The Army is expected to lower the number of points required for discharge from 85 to between 78 and 80 in the next few weeks, it was reported today.

At the same time members of the house military affairs committee said they anticipated no change in the Army regulation qualifying men for automatic discharge on reaching 40 years of age.

This they expected to stand despite what they called "tremendous pressure" from those who felt that older men—especially family men—suffered the greatest economic dislocation while in the service and cost the taxpayers more money.

Other pressure came from those who would release medical and technical students but members expressed doubt that either of these changes would be made, explaining that the Army insisted the only fair method was to discharge the men who had the longest and most arduous service.

They also said that the Army will stand on its demands for 7,000,000 men to lick Japan. If one group is relieved of service the pressure will mount for release of other groups, they said.

However, the Army itself has made it clear that some time soon the number of points needed for discharge will be further reduced.

It was pointed out that field commanders sent in reports on the number of points held by all men up to today.

The new "critical" discharge score will be determined from these reports and will be based on the number of points that will release 1,300,000 men. The present critical score of 85 was intentionally set too high to release the full 1,300,000, since, until all scores were in the Army did not know what total would serve to release exactly the right number.

Committee members said they did not believe the new score would be much below 85, that it probably would be fixed at 80 and not less than 78. They emphasized that point values would not be changed.

The 1,300,000 men to be discharged on point scores are in addition to some 700,000 others who will normally be released over a

OHIO SOLDIERS TO KNOW ABOUT WIVES' BABIES

COLUMBUS, O., June 27—The Ohio general assembly today was confronted with the $64 question that tripped up the California state legislature with the nation's GI Joes.

The situation arose when it was discovered that the wives of Ohio servicemen were being permitted to offer their illegitimate children for adoption without the knowledge of their soldier-husbands.

But Rep. Edwin F. Sawicki, Cleveland Democrat, said he would attempt to prevent the Ohio legislators from being caught short the way the California solons were when they passed and then recalled a law legalizing the procedure.

He said he would offer an amendment to a bill before the Ohio legislature today to revise the state's adoption laws to make it compulsory to notify the soldier-hubby in such cases.

Delegates Start Home After Signing Charter Of New Peace Program

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27—With the United Nations charter finally approved and signed, representatives of the 50 nations scheduled one final meeting today to set up a "preparatory" commission to plan for the first meeting of the new world peace-keeping organization.

The United Nations conference is ended after nine full weeks of deliberation and debate. It was adjourned by Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., last night at 5:29 p. m. PWT., after hearing President Truman's solemn plea for speedy ratification of the new world charter.

The signing of the charter by the participating nations was completed at 7:18 p. m., with the delegates of Guatemala the last to append their name to the historic document.

The ink was hardly dry on their signatures when most of the top delegates started back to their posts. Stettinius left with a plane load of American and foreign delegates after dinner. Mr. Truman had departed for Salt Lake City even earlier.

Formality Meeting On
Today's meeting is just a formality. The conference approved a plan for setting up the "preparatory commission" in London and the session today was called simply to discuss its organization. The commission will carry on until the charter has been ratified by enough countries to permit actual creation of the new world organization.

President Truman brought the long conference to a dramatic close late yesterday afternoon with an address to the delegates. It was his first appearance before such an international gathering and by the comments later, he was a success.

The President urged the peace-loving nations of the world to ratify the charter immediately, warning:

"There is a time for making plans—and there is a time for action. The time for action is now."

To Present Charter At Once
He also promised to present the charter to the U. S. senate immediately.

DOMEI 'SORRY' ABOUT DELAY IN SENDING NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27—The Japanese Domei agency apologized to its client newspapers in occupied Asia today for hours-long delays "of late" in its transmissions.

"We hope to correct the situation as quickly as possible and until then, we beg you to understand the situation," Domei said in a service message to editors.

Only a fortnight ago, Domei sent a confidential message to editors abroad revealing that its plant in Tokyo had been partly destroyed in a B-29 raid May 26, disrupting service generally. Cause of the new delays was not reported.

Two more witnesses have been subpoenaed for rebuttal testimony in the suit of the City of Circleville against the Ohio Water Service company. The water plant witnesses called for Wednesday afternoon are Clarence J. Martin and Howard Young.

KUME INVADED BY AMERICANS TOKYO STATES

Tiny Isle Would Give U. S. Forces Closest Base To China Coast

LUZON FIGHT NEAR END

MacArthur Says 'Liquidation Of Last Enemy Stronghold Is Approaching'

By United Press

A new battle for an invasion base raged today on the tiny island of Kume, 50 miles west of Okinawa, according to enemy radio reports.

Tokyo said that heavy fighting was underway on Kume after a landing by American troops. There was no other confirmation of the reports.

Previous Japanese broadcasts had told of an American fleet of 200 ships, including cruisers, destroyers and transports, massed in the Kerama islands, halfway between Okinawa and Kume.

Japan also reported that the Allied fleet, reported off Balikpapan for two weeks, again was shelling the defenses of the Borneo oil center. The broadcast added that minesweepers still were operating in Balikpapan bay.

Aussies Take Miri
On Borneo's northwest coast, Australian troops captured the town of Miri to complete their conquest of the rich Seria and Miri oilfields. The wells set afire by the Japanese still burned in both fields.

The battle of the Cagayan valley in northern Luzon was drawing to a close with only 20 miles separating American forces advancing north and south in the valley. The 37th division relieved the guerrilla force holding Tuguegarao against counter attacks and pushed on another 10 miles. From the north the 11th airborne division gained two miles.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that "the liquidation of the last enemy stronghold is approaching." The end of the fighting in northern Luzon would free five American divisions for new operations.

802 Nips Captured
Mopping-up operations on Okinawa brought in another 802 Japanese prisoners to make the total for the campaign 9498.

The bodies of the Japanese commander on Okinawa, Lt. Gen. Mitsuru Ushijima, and his chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Isama Cho, were found by American troops. They committed hara-kiri according to the traditional ritual.

Japan still was shaky from the first double blow by superfortresses within a 24 hour period. Some 14 hours after the B-29's hit 10 war plants, another 50 of the bombers returned to fire the Utsumi river oil refinery. The refinery was Japan's largest source of aviation fuel.

23 Ships Blasted
In the constant attacks on Japanese shipping from Borneo to the Kuriles another 23 enemy ships were sunk or damaged.

The reported landing on Kume island, if true, would give American forces their closest island base to the China coast, 360 miles away to the west. Chinese troops now have cleared some 365 miles of the coastline opposite Okinawa, and the Japanese speculated today

Delegates Start Home After Signing Charter Of New Peace Program

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27—With the United Nations charter finally approved and signed, representatives of the 50 countries scheduled one final meeting today to set up a "preparatory" commission to plan for the first meeting of the new world peace-keeping organization.

The United Nations conference is ended after nine full weeks of deliberation and debate. It was adjourned by Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., last night at 5:29 p. m. PWT., after hearing President Truman's solemn plea for speedy ratification of the new world charter.

The signing of the charter by the participating nations was completed at 7:15 p. m., with the delegates of Guatemala the last to append their name to the historic document.

The ink was hardly dry on their signatures when most of the top delegates started back to their posts. Stettinius left with a plane load of American and foreign delegates after dinner. Mr. Truman had departed for Salt Lake City even earlier.

Formality Meeting On
Today's meeting is just a formality. The conference approved a plan for setting up the "preparatory commission" in London and the session today was called simply to discuss its organization. The commission will carry on until the charter has been ratified by enough countries to permit actual creation of the new world organization.

President Truman brought the long conference to a dramatic close late yesterday afternoon with an address to the delegates. It was his first appearance before such an international gathering, and by the comments later, he was a success.

The President urged the peace-loving nations of the world to ratify the charter immediately, warning:

"There is a time for making plans—and there is a time for action. The time for action is now."

To Present Charter At Once
He also promised to present the charter to the U. S. senate im-

DOMEI 'SORRY' ABOUT DELAY IN SENDING NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27—The Japanese Domei agency apologized to its client newspapers in occupied Asia today for hours-long delays "of late" in its transmissions.

"We hope to correct the situation as quickly as possible and until then, we beg you to understand the situation," Domei said in a service message to editors.

Only a fortnight ago, Domei sent a confidential message to editors abroad revealing that its plant in Tokyo had been partly destroyed in a B-29 raid May 26, disrupting service generally. Cause of the new delays was not reported.

LUZON FIGHT NEAR END

MacArthur Says 'Liquidation Of Last Enemy Stronghold Is Approaching'

By United Press

A new battle for an invasion base raged today on the tiny island of Kume, 50 miles west of Okinawa, according to enemy radio reports.

Tokyo said that heavy fighting was underway on Kume after a landing by American troops. There was no other confirmation of the reports.

Previous Japanese broadcasts had told of an American fleet of 200 ships, including cruisers, destroyers and transports, massed in the Kerama Islands, halfway between Okinawa and Kume.

Japan also reported that the Allied fleet, reported off Balikpapan for two weeks, again was shelling the defenses of the Bornoe oil center. The broadcast added that minesweepers still were operating in Balikpapan bay.

Aussies Take Miri
On Bornoe's northwest coast, Australian troops captured the town of Miri to complete their conquest of the rich Seria and Miri oilfields. The wells set afire by the Japanese still burned in both fields.

The battle of the Cagayan valley in northern Luzon was drawing to a close with only 20 miles separating American forces advancing north and south in the valley. The 37th division relieved the guerrilla force holding Tuguegarao against counter-attacks and pushed on another 10 miles.

From the north the 11th airborne division gained two miles.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that "the liquidation of the last enemy stronghold is approaching." The end of the fighting in northern Luzon would free five American divisions for new operations.

802 Nips Captured

Mopping-up operations on Okinawa brought in another 802 Japanese prisoners to make the total for the campaign 9,498.

The bodies of the Japanese commander on Okinawa, Lt. Gen. Mitsuru Ushijima, and his chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Isamu Cho, were found by American troops. They committed hara-kiri according to the traditional ritual.

Japan still was shaky from the first double blow by superfortresses within a 24 hour period. Some 14 hours after the B-29's hit 10 war plants, another 50 of the bombers returned to fire the Utsunomiya river oil refinery. The refinery was Japan's largest source of aviation fuel.

23 Ships Blasted
In the constant attacks on Japanese shipping from Bornoe to the Kuriles another 23 enemy ships were sunk or damaged.

The reported landing on Kume island, if true, would give American forces their closest island base to the China coast, 360 miles away to the west. Chinese troops now have cleared some 365 miles of the coastline opposite Okinawa, and the Japanese speculated today (Continued on Page Two)

OHIO MOTORISTS SPEEDING UP, SURVEY REVEALS

COLUMBUS, June 27—Ohio motorists are speeding up on the highways, a check of highway department records showed today.

Electric devices installed on major highways showed that most Ohio drivers speeded up in 1944 over the rates they drove in the two other war years.

In 1941, before the war and attendant rationing, half the drivers checked went at 46.5 miles an hour. The federal 35-mile speed "limit" dropped that 50 percent to 41 miles an hour or less in 1942.

Lindgren-Strous Rites Are Read In Wisconsin

Ceremony Performed
At Lindgren Home
June 14

An alcove, banked with a profusion of flowers, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marjorie Lindgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindgren, Ashland, Wisconsin, and Phm. 3/c Robert E. Strous, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Strous, near Laurelville.

The Rev. N. A. Nelson, pastor of the Saron Lutheran church read the double-ring ceremony at the Lindgren home in Wisconsin, Thursday 3 p. m., June 14.

As the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, Miss June Emerson, a classmate of the bride, sang, "Always". She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Spoolman.

A white eyelid street-length dress was worn by the bride for her marriage, with which she wore long white gloves, and a two-strand pearl necklace. Four white roses were pinned to her hair and she carried a bouquet of white roses, to which was pinned a brooch, belonging to her parental grandmother.

Miss Marion Lindgren, twin sister, of the bride served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a pink eyelid dress, identical to the bride's. She wore pink roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She also wore a double strand of pearls.

The bride-groom, who was dressed in his white uniform, was attended by his father.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home for the wedding guests. Mrs. Glenn Stowers poured for the occasion. A dinner at 6:30 p. m. was served at the Knight hotel for members of the immediate family.

After the dinner the couple left for Iron River, Wis., to pass a few days at the Lindgren cottage. They also plan to pass a few days at the bridegroom's home.

The bride is a junior in the school of occupational therapy at the University of Wisconsin.

The bridegroom is on a 12 day leave from the United States Coast Guard, and is the son of Mr. Strous, superintendent of the Salt Creek Valley schools, and Mrs. Strous.

Wednesday evening guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Strous to honor the newlyweds. Guests for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Strous, Mrs. Maude Hubbell, Miss Lizzy Strous, Mrs. Mildred Strous, and sons, David, Richard and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hosler and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don't throw away the green tops of young onions. Use them in salads of raw greens or vegetables, chopping them fine first. They are also good in deviled eggs, white sauce and stews.

Any practical kitchen apron may be converted into a cleaning kit apron to save the housewife steps. The feature of this apron is a series of pockets which hang free so that the contents do not fall out when the wearer stoops. Make patch pockets of the apron material or any other harmonizing, sturdy fabric, but make them double thickness, joining the two layers of cloth at the sides and bottom only. The result is a free-hanging bag for dust cloths or tools. Three or four pockets of varying size can be added to a single apron. The apron must be washable, of course, as it will need frequent tubbing.

Lindgren-Strous Rites Are Read In Wisconsin

Ceremony Performed
At Lindgren Home

An alcove, banked with a profusion of flowers, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marjorie Lindgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindgren, Ashland, Wisconsin, and Phm. 3/c Robert E. Strous, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Strous, near Laurelville.

The Rev. N. A. Nelson, pastor of the Saron Lutheran church read the double-ring ceremony at the Lindgren home in Wisconsin, Thursday 3 p. m., June 14.

A white eyelet street-length dress was worn by the bride for her marriage, with which she wore long white gloves, and a two-strand pearl necklace. Four white roses were pinned to her hair and she carried a bouquet of white roses, to which was pinned a brooch, belonging to her parental grandmother.

Miss Marion Lindgren, twin sister, of the bride served as maid of honor. She was dressed in a pink eyelet dress, identical to the bride's. She wore pink roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink roses. She also wore a double strand of pearls.

The bridegroom, who was dressed in his white uniform, was attended by his father.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home for the wedding guests. Mrs. Glenn Stowers poured for the occasion. A dinner at 6:30 p. m. was served at the Knight hotel for members of the immediate family.

After the dinner the couple left for Iron River, Wis., to pass a few days at the Lindgren cottage. They also plan to pass a few days at the bridegroom's home.

The bride is a junior in the school of occupational therapy at the University of Wisconsin.

The bridegroom is on a 12 day leave from the United States Coast Guard, and is the son of Mr. Strous, superintendent of the Salt Creek Valley schools, and Mrs. Strous.

Strous, Mrs. Maude Hubbell, Miss Lizzy Strous, Mrs. Mildred Strous, and sons, David, Richard and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hosler and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thousands See 'Here's Your Infantry' In Ted Lewis Park

Capture Of Jap Pillbox
Climax Of Thrilling Demonstration

Ted Lewis Park was filled to capacity Tuesday evening. Circleville and Pickaway county citizens packed into the park grounds to see the Army Service Forces simulation of combat fighting conditions in the "Here's Your Infantry" show. The crowd was estimated at from 5,000 to 7,500.

Keen interest in the Infantry show was displayed early Tuesday afternoon when the steps and sidewalks in front of the county court house were jammed with spectators who came to see the exhibition of infantry weapons and equipment. All the infantry weapons including the 30 caliber Carbine rifle, Garand rifle, Springfield snipers rifle, light and heavy machine guns, sub machine guns, grenades and rockets, bazooka's rocket launchers, trenching tools, medical supplies and first aid equipment, light and heavy mortars and the foot soldiers pack and gear, were displayed in front of the court house.

The afternoon exhibit was highlighted by the music of the 89th AGF Band from Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark., which also presented a band concert prior to the evening show at the park. Tuesday evening's show demonstrated how the infantryman operates in combat, under simulated combat conditions. An Infantry combat patrol maneuvered across the ball field in the front of the grandstands to demonstrate tactics necessary to the deactivation of enemy snipers nests and pillboxes with machine gun, rifle, mortar and bazooka fire and finally the flame thrower.

North-end Circleville shook from the explosions of the demonstration of the Infantrymen crawling through an attack zone under the fire of mortars and grenades. A little of what the men in actual combat experience was realized from the ear splitting noises and explosions that accompanied the attack on the enemy pill-box at the climax of the Infantry show.

"Here's Your Infantry" did far more than present a spectacle to amaze people Tuesday evening. The show gave a vivid demonstration of what war is like and the equipment that is necessary to prosecute a war. The people that saw the Infantry show could fill in their own answers. How much will they lend their government in War Bonds to hurry their war to its conclusion? The civilian has a war cost in dollars, it is true, but the soldier has a war cost in life and human suffering, in noise and in insecurity. Every one of the men in the Infantry demonstration Tuesday night has seen combat and everyone of them are regular bond buyers through the Army's payroll deduction plan, according to Lieut. Lawrence Decker, commander of the unit.

"Here's Your Infantry" was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce cooperating with the Pickaway county War Finance Committee. The Infantry show will be presented in London, Ohio Thursday; in Cincinnati, Friday, and in Cleveland on Independence Day.

Pickaway county winners in the essay contest which had been jointly sponsored by the Ohio Cannery Association, War Manpower Commission and Ohio State University were awarded their prizes between the acts of the Infantry show. The winners were June Osborne, of Commercial Point, $25 War Bond; Mary Timmons, Ashville, $15 in War Stamps; Betty Jean Holbrook, Orient, $5 in War Stamps; third and fourth prize winners, Jacqueline Rust, Orient, $5, and Betty Lou Hough, Ashville, $5. Honorable mentions were made to the following: Joan Belt, Orient; Russell H. Younkin, Ashville; Robert Shoaf, Orient; Margaret Davis, Ashville; Dick Hinton, Commercial Point; Ivan Schooley, Commercial Point; Richard Walker, Ashville; John Louis Hough, Ashville; Leslie J. Bowsher, Orient, and Delvin M. Thompson, Orient.

Lieut. Col. Dusty Rhodes, U. S. Army Air Force, made a short talk on the Infantry show and the War Bond Drive during the intermission.

STALIN TO GET NEW TITLE OF 'GENERALISSIMO'

LONDON, June 27—It soon may be "generalissimo" instead of Marshal Josef Stalin, radio Moscow indicated today.

A broadcast reporting that Stalin is to be awarded the four highest honors of the Soviet Union also said that the rank of generalissimo has been created.

"Generalissimo of the Soviet Union," the broadcast said, "is to be conferred by the presidium of the supreme soviet for exceptionally outstanding service to the country in leadership of all armed forces of state during war."

Thousands See 'Here's Your Infantry' In Ted Lewis Park

BATTLE FIELD ACTION SHOWN BY 37 VETERANS

Capture Of Jap Pillbox
Climax Of Thrilling Demonstration

Ted Lewis Park was filled to capacity Tuesday evening. Circleville and Pickaway county citizens packed into the park grounds to see the Army Service Forces simulation of combat fighting conditions in the "Here's Your Infantry" show. The crowd was estimated at from 5,000 to 7,500.

Keen interest in the Infantry show was displayed early Tuesday afternoon when the steps and sidewalks in front of the county court house were jammed with spectators who came to see the exhibition of infantry weapons and equipment. All the infantry weapons including the 30 caliber Carbine rifle, Garand rifle, Springfield sniper rifle, light and heavy machine guns, sub machine guns, grenades and rockets, bazooka's rocket launchers, trenching tools, medical supplies and first aid equipment, light and heavy mortars and the foot soldiers pack and gear, were displayed in front of the court house.

The afternoon exhibit was highlighted by the music of the 89th AGF Band from Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark., which also presented a band concert prior to the evening show at the park.

Tuesday evening's show demonstrated how the infantryman operates in combat, under simulated combat conditions. An Infantry combat patrol maneuvered across the ball field in the front of the grandstands to demonstrate tactics necessary to the deactivation of enemy snipers nests and pillboxes with machine gun, rifle, mortar and bazooka fire and finally the flame thrower.

North-end Circleville shook from the explosions of the demonstration of the Infantrymen crawling through an attack zone under the fire of mortars and grenades. A little of what the men in actual combat experience was realized from the ear splitting noises and explosions that accompanied the attack on the enemy pill-box at the climax of the Infantry show.

"Here's Your Infantry" did far more than present a spectacle to amaze people Tuesday evening. The show gave a vivid demonstration of what war is like and the equipment that is necessary to prosecute a war. The people that saw the Infantry show could fill in their own answers. How much will they lend their government in War Bonds to hurry their war to its conclusion? The civilian has a war cost in dollars. It is true, but the soldier has a war cost in life and human suffering, in noise and in insecurity. Every one of the men in the Infantry demonstration Tuesday night has seen combat and everyone of them are regular bond buyers through the Army's payroll deduction plan, according to Lieut. Lawrence Decker, commander of the unit.

"Here's Your Infantry" was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce cooperating with the Pickaway county War Finance Committee. The Infantry show will be presented in London, Ohio Thursday; in Cincinnati, Friday, and in Cleveland on Independence Day.

Pickaway county winners in the essay contest which had been jointly sponsored by the Ohio Canners Association, War Manpower Commission and Ohio State University were awarded their prizes between the acts of the Infantry show. The winners were June Osborne, of Commercial Point, $25 War Bonds; Mary Timmons, Ashville, $15 in War Stamps; Betty Jean Holbrook, Orient, $5 in War Stamps; third and fourth prize winners, Jacqueline Rust, Orient, $5, and Betty Lou Hough, Ashville, $5. Honorable mentions were made to the following: Joan Belt, Orient; Russell H. Younkin, Ashville; Robert Shoaf, Orient; Margaret Davis, Ashville; Dick Hinton, Commercial Point; Ivan Schooley, Commercial Point; Richard Walker, Ashville; John Louis Hough, Ashville; Leslie J. Bowsher, Orient, and Delvin M. Thompson, Orient.

Lieut. Col. Dusty Rhodes, U. S. Army Air Force, made a short talk on the Infantry show and the War Bond Drive during the intermission.

STALIN TO GET NEW TITLE OF 'GENERALISSIMO'

LONDON, June 27—It soon may be "generalissimo" instead of Marshal Josef Stalin, radio Moscow indicated today.

A broadcast reporting that Stalin is to be awarded the four highest honors of the Soviet Union also said that the rank of generalissimo has been created.

"Generalissimo of the Soviet Union," the broadcast said, "is to be conferred by the presidium of the supreme soviet for exceptionally outstanding service to the country in leadership of all armed forces of state during war."

Stalin, who personally directed Russia's armed forces, would seem to be the only one qualified for the title.

"I won't argue with him on the subject," Mrs. Hopkins said. "Some of them (Russian) are beautiful indeed. They're very different."

Mrs. Hopkins landed at La Guardia field in an army transport command plane and a half-hour later left for Washington.

CIVILIANS NEED MENTAL HELP

People At Home To Be More Of Problem Than Veterans, Dr. Tallman Says

COLUMBUS, June 27—War-weary civilians with fatigued nerves will present a greater post-war problem in psychiatric treatment than returning veterans, Dr. Frank F. Tallman, chief of the mental diseases division of the Ohio public welfare department, said today.

Worry of civilians over relatives in service, rationing, shortages and other war irritations has caused many persons to draw close to the borderline of mental instability, he said, but if these persons are given prompt psychiatric treatments they can be brought back to normalcy in a short period of time.

"A typical case, would be that of a woman whose husband is in the armed forces overseas. The woman's worry over her husband, coupled with her need to stand in line for long periods of time to secure rationed goods, and responsibilities of a home and children could easily cause her to become a borderline case."

"Ohio has enough physical clinics," Dr. Tallman said. "The need now is for a system of mental clinics which can give out-patient treatment which does not require hospitalization."

"The public welfare department has asked the legislature for an appropriation sufficient to begin a mental clinic program," the doctor said. Our department hopes to set up one mental clinic during 1945 and an additional two clinics in 1946.

Doctor Tallman estimated that 18 clinics will be needed in Ohio in addition to public health receiving hospitals which are now being planned.

The clinic program, Tallman said, would be divided into three divisions:

1. A mobile clinic plan must be provided to serve rural and semi-rural communities.

2. A system of resident clinics will be required to serve patients within a radius of 50 miles around their facilities.

3. Clinics will be needed to serve in connection with the state receiving hospitals.

It is the hope of this division," Dr. Tallman said, "to be able to stimulate general hospitals in Ohio to work with our mental aid program."

"The better the out-patient facilities the fewer chronically ill persons we will have and the smaller will be the need for big institutions to care for their needs," he said.

Early treatment of persons with sick personalities results in quicker and less expensive cures, Dr. Tallman said.
